Fire Destroys Summer Residence

The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. DeRush of Troy was completely destroyed by fire on Thursday, July 6.

The Crawford County Sheriff Dept. received a report of a grass fire at 12:38 p.m. located just off the Kneff Lake entrance road, but when deputies arrived they discovered a two story home fully engulfed in flames. The home was a total loss as well as the contents. Approximately one acre of land around the house was also burned. The unattached garage was not damaged.

No one was home when the fire started. Mr. and Mrs. DeRush had left for Grayling at about 11:15 a.m. and did not learn of the fire until they arrived and found the firemen on the scene. Edward DeRush is a retired Madison Heights fireman with 25 years of firefighting experience.

The home was located at the end of the Shangra-La subdivision in Grayling Township.

The Grayling City and Township Fire Dept., Grayling DNR fire units, Beaver Creek Fire Dept. and the Crawford Co. Ambulance Corps (stand-by) also responded to the emergency.

The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

Lehman Inmate Escapes Monday

Jorge Mayea, serving a 3-year, 10-month sentence at Lehman, was found missing during a routine check at 1 a.m. Monday. Mayea is a white male, 5' 5" and 152 pounds, with black hair, brown eyes, and medium build. He was sentenced out of Bay County.

Shawono Youth Returned to Center

The youth who ran away from the Shawono Center on Wednesday, June 28, has been returned to the Center following an overnight stay in the Mecosta County jail.

The car stolen by the juvenile was spotted by a neighbor in Mecosta County and reported to police. The youth was apprehended without incident on June 29 and was returned to Crawford County on June 30th. He is now waiting to see if any legal action will be taken.

Fred Woelmer, director of the Shawono Center, said Mecosta County authorities have decided not to prosecute the youth for possession of stolen property. He said if Crawford County authorities also decide not to prosecute, the young man will go before a Dept. of Social Services parole and review board for a violation hearing.

Besides any legal or DSS action, the youth will reimburse the owner of the stolen car for any damages (over the owner's insurance coverage) and for all expenses incurred because of the theft. Woelmer said restitution is a Shawono Center policy.

Ohio Man Charged With Knife Assault

An Ohio National Guardsman was arrested on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm when he allegedly pulled a knife on another guardsman during an argument last Friday, July 7th.

The assault occurred at 12:45 a.m. at Camp Grayling following an argument between the two guardsmen about an incident that took place in Ohio some time ago.

The Sheriff's Dept. reported that after the assault the suspect fled the scene. He was located at 3 a.m. and was taken into custody. He is lodged in the Crawford County Jail pending his arraignment.

The Camp Grayling Provost Marshall assisted the Crawford County Sheriff Dept.

Extra Public Meeting Scheduled For E.I.S.

An additional public hearing for comments on a draft Environmental Impact Statement for Camp Grayling will be held Saturday, July 22, at 10 a.m. at the Grayling High School auditorium.

The Department of Military Affairs scheduled the additional meeting to accommodate individuals unable to attend two mid-week meetings held previously. The deadline for submitting written comments has also been extended to July 31.

County Ambulance's Future Up In The Air

After a lengthy session on Tuesday, July 11, the Crawford County Board of Commissioners recessed their meeting until 10 a.m. on Friday, July 14, when it will reconvene to address the future of the Crawford County Ambulance Corps (CCAC).

On Friday morning Commissioner Jeannette Kitchen, Treasurer Joe Wakeley, and CCAC Director Tony Doremire will present Commissioners with a proposed solution to the Corp's current financial problems. County auditor Bill Holmes will be assisting in the formation of the proposal.

Wakeley explained that because of the ambulance's inability to continue operating under the present structure, the proposal suggests that Crawford County enter into a financial agreement with the City of Grayling and other affected townships to defray the cost of operating and maintaining the ambulance service.

If the proposal is accepted by the Commissioners, letters will be sent to county government units stipulating that if the proposal is not implemented within 60 days (Sept. 12, 1989) the following action will be taken:

A. Crawford County will end the CCAC and the EMT's will be laid off.

B. Crawford County will not enter into any agreement to subsidize an ambulance service with a private company.

C. Each local government unit is notified that as of Sept. 12th any consideration for public ambulance or contracting with a private agency will be left to the local unit's discretion.

Wakeley said the draft proposal offers an appropriate funding formula based on the unit's percentage of the county's equalization values.

"We know the units of government are not going to be happy about the proposal," said Wakeley, "but they have to be part of the solution either working with the county, or by formulating their own individual solutions."

Wakeley said, in his opinion, total participation would be necessary to alleviate the Corp's financial crunch.

Since the news of CCAC's uncertain future, payments by residents have decreased. Wakeley speculated that people were waiting to see whether the county ambulance stays in business or folds, thinking they might not have to pay their bills.

"Even if the ambulance fails," he said, "the county will aggressively pursue the collection of outstanding bills. This is just good management of government."

Daniel W. Heard, owner of Northern Michigan EMS, addressed the Commissioners on Tuesday regarding Northern's ability to provide complete ambulance service to the county should CCAC fail to receive financial support. Heard presented each Commissioner with an information packet containing an introduction, resumes, and letters of recommendation.

Heard proposed that instead of subsidies, that Crawford County provide the ambulances and equipment and Northern Michigan EMS would provide the personnel and management.

"We would be more than happy to sit down with a committee and explore the county's ambulance needs," Heard said.

3 Persons Killed In Beaver Creek

Three persons were killed Tuesday, July 11, when their car collided with a semi-truck in Beaver Creek Twp.

Bruce Irons, 31, his wife, Carol, 48, and her father, Dominic Spedoski, 69, all of Portland, were pronounced dead at the scene. Caroline Spedoski, 68, was taken by ambulance to Grayling Mercy Hospital and then transferred to Sparrow Hospital in Lansing.

According to Michigan State Police, the accident occurred at 8:25 a.m. when the semi, driven by a 33-year-old Lansing man, was traveling west on Higgins Lake Drive and failed to stop at the intersection of Higgins Lake Drive and Old 27. The second vehicle, driven by Bruce Irons, was traveling northbound on Old 27 and struck the left rear of the semi's trailer.

According to the State Police, the Crawford County Prosecutor's Office is reviewing the case to determine whether charges should be brought against the driver of the truck.

The accident is still under investigation. Emergency services at the scene included state police, Crawford County Sheriff deputies, and Northern Michigan EMS.

Civil War Regiment Returning to Milltown

Music from the Civil War era of the United States, performed by the 5th Michigan Regiment Band, will highlight Grayling's annual Milltown Parade on Saturday, July 29, at 3:00 p.m.

The original 5th Michigan Regiment Band, composed of Union Soldiers from Livingston County, Michigan, mustered in 1861 through old Fort Wayne in Detroit. The regimental band, more than 20 members strong, was made of farmers, shopkeepers, adventurers, teachers and a few musicians.

DNR Offers Swimmers' Itch Tips

Cases of swimmers' itch (cercarial dermatitis) have been reported this summer by bathers in Lake Margrethe and other state inland lakes. The Michigan Dept. of Natural Resources has released a bulletin to provide information about the problem.

In summary, the bulletin explains that swimmers' itch is caused by a tiny larval flatworm that usually emerges from specific snail species.

The worms elongate to form germinating sacs (sporocysts) that produce thousands of cercariae (second larval stage). At this stage, the cercariae must enter certain species of birds or rodents to develop into adult worms in the host's blood vessels. But, they may also encounter bathers, penetrating their skin and causing swimmers' itch in sensitive people.

The cercarial entry feels like a dull, prickly, itchy sensation, which will redden on the skin of sensitized individuals. After about 24 hours, the reddened areas reach their largest size, but swimmers who have repeated exposures may show further increase in reddening, especially if they itch the aggravated spots. After a week, the reddened areas usually disappear, leaving a spot that resembles a small bruise.

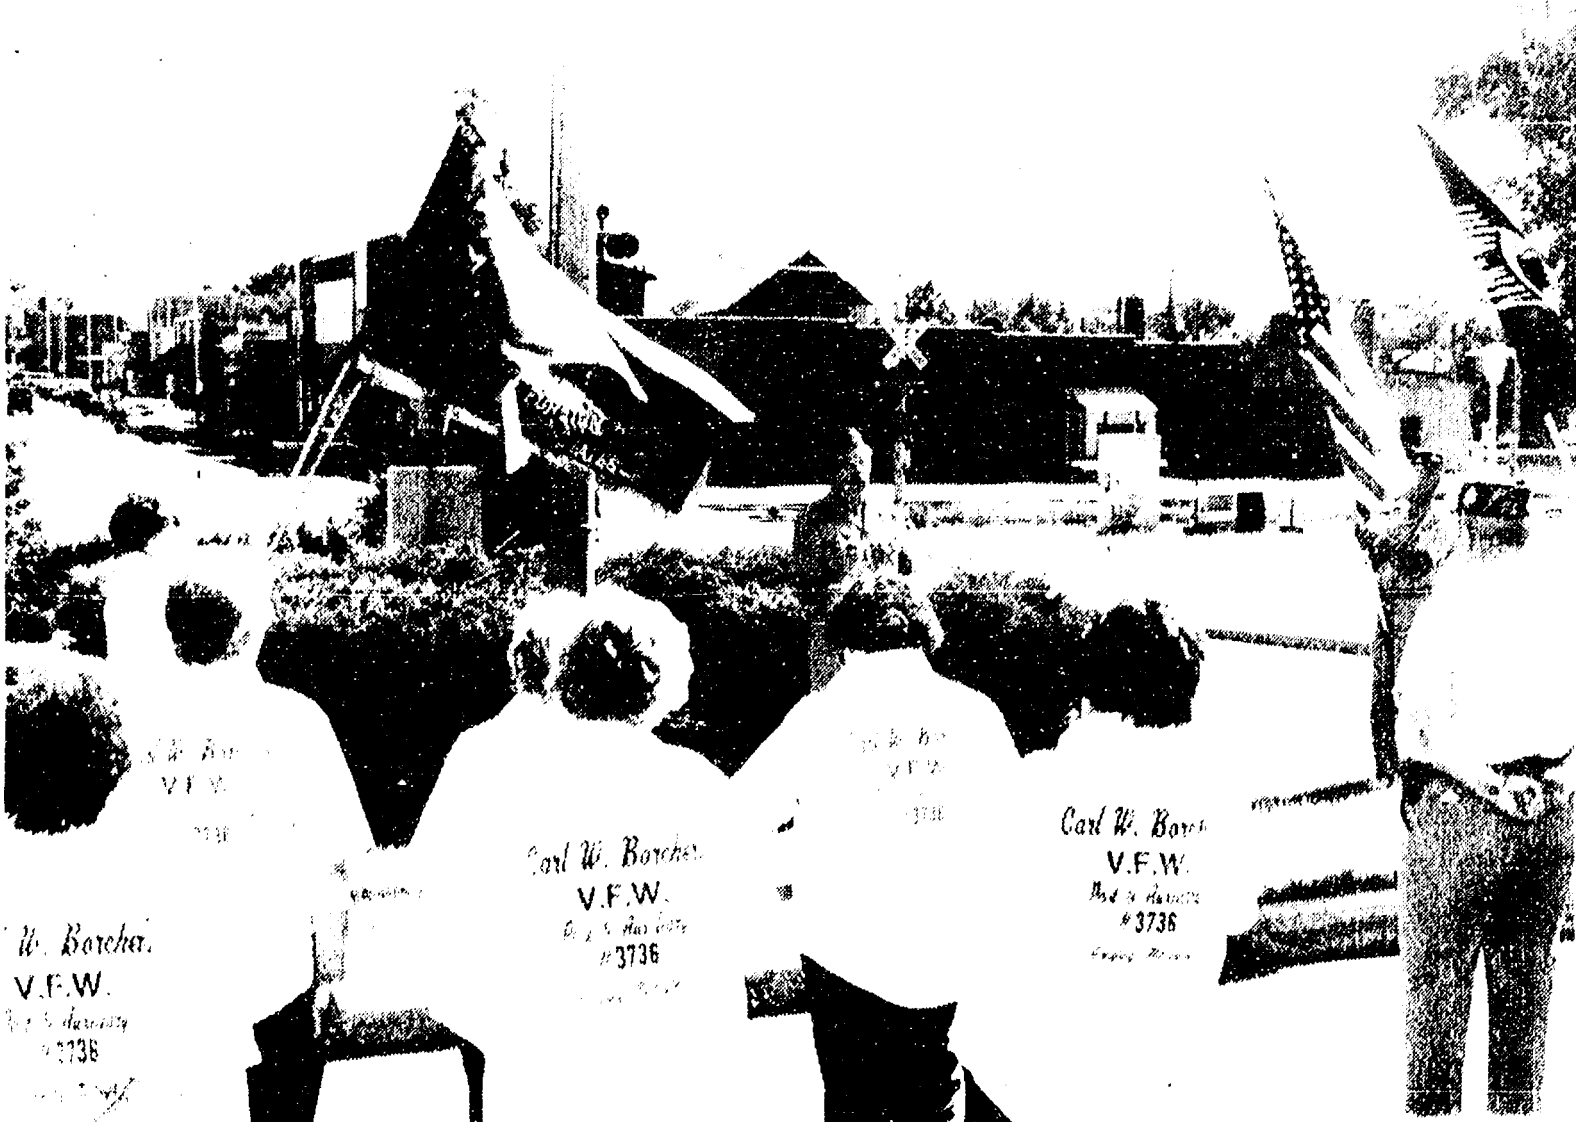

The itchy, reddened, raised spots are often confused with chigger or mosquito bites, poison ivy or stinging nettles. However, with swimmer's itch, the symptoms are limited to the points of cercarial entry, do not spread and do not develop watery blisters.

Some people who contact the parasite will never show an allergic reaction, while others are very prone to cercarial invasion. Members of the same family may vary in the degree of their susceptibility.

There are several preventative measures to follow to eliminate or reduce swimmers' itch. 1) Avoid situations that encourage birds to remain in areas where people frequent water. Feeding birds should be strongly discouraged; 2) Swim on the northern and western shores of a lake. (Most swimmers contact cercariae while swimming on eastern and southern lakeshores.); 3) Avoid continuous swimming along the shore, because large numbers of cercariae can accumulate there; 4) Towel off immediately after leaving the water to prevent the cercariae from entering the skin as the body dries.

Only total eradication of certain snails would eliminate the problem of swimmers' itch. At this point, a total snail kill in a large lake would be practically impossible with present control methods. There would also be a danger of seriously affecting the fish and fish-food populations.

Presently, copper sulfate is the only molluscicide currently registered in Michigan for control of swimmers' itch. While an expensive treatment, it is relatively harmless to fish in unconfined areas, if applied correctly.

from within the infantry regiment.

For nearly four years, the 5th Michigan saw action in the Civil War, suffering the 47th highest casualty rate of any regiment. Time and again, the soldiers displayed courage and valor well beyond the call of duty. Thus, by the war's end, an estimated 75 percent of the men who had left their Livingston County homes and families had been killed.

For 108 years -- from 1885 to 1973 -- the 5th Michigan existed only as a memory, growing dimmer as time passed. However, in 1973, the City of Howell recreated the 5th Regiment Band as a Bicentennial project.

With about 40 members, the group began rehearsing in local schools and soon grew to 100 members. Performing its first public concert in December, the band offered something they believed was unique -- a truly patriotic pageant, a program of American music with clear emphasis on the works of John Philip Sousa, and a display of love of country and the flag which flies over her.

Since its inception, the 5th Michigan has evolved into an authentic regimental band, both in size and in the music it plays. Its 30 members include musicians, national colors and support. Its repertoire is authentic Civil War era music rearranged by conductor Guy Smith for modern day instrumentation.

In 1987, the band acquired five over-the-shoulder sax horns, which add authenticity to its appearance and sound. Invented for 19th century military use, the sax horn is placed over the musician's shoulder with its bell facing the rear of the troop formation.

According to Smith, the 5th Regiment is one of only 10 bands in the U.S. which specialize in Civil War era music, and one of only four part-time groups. Of the band members, some live nearby, but others come from as far away as Grand Rapids and Ohio. They meet one evening a week to rehearse their 60-piece repertoire.

In addition to parades, the 5th Regiment performs at festivals, military encampments, reenactments and skirmishes, and in concert. In 1975, the band was proclaimed Michigan's official Bicentennial Band, an honor it still retains.

The 5th Michigan Regiment Band will join Domino's Pizza Poles, the Sault Ste. Marie Pipe Band, the 7th Michigan Volunteer Infantry Company B, the Grayling High School Marching Band and nearly 100 other entries in the annual Milltown Parade, sponsored by the Grayling Promotional Association.

Couldn't Floats Be Used For Both Parades Here?

To Whom It May Concern:

"I'm Proud to be an American."

"I'm Proud of the Red, White and Blue."

Many local residents or family members have fought or died in wars to make our Nation strong. How sad and appalling to have lost our desire to celebrate our Nation's birth. What a shock to be compelled to accept.

How embarrassing to admit to ourselves and others, "We are not having a parade."

Our local festivities surrounding our Milltown Festival have taken over and overpowered our common sense. I fail to see why it is so unrealistic to expect the 4th of July to have preference over our local celebration. I cannot believe if support were given for our 4th of July Celebration with a large parade, why the floats would not be ready to roll once again in our Milltown Parade. How proud we could be of both events!

It is no wonder we fail to recognize our Vietnam Veterans and pass amendments giving citizens the right to degrade and burn our Flag. How sad!!

We have lost our sense of decency! Are we taking America for granted?

Imperative to Attend Permit Hearing

Dear Editor,

As a Beaver Creek Township resident, I was interested to read an article in the June 22nd, Bay City Times. The article was entitled "Formaldehyde plant construction slated to begin in August." It referred to Georgia-Pacific's proposed formaldehyde plant expansion in Beaver Creek Township. Anyone reading this article would be lead to believe that Georgia-Pacific already had their air permit for this expansion. That is not the case.

The Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission will be holding an informal public meeting in Grayling, concerning Georgia-Pacific's air permit application.

The exact date and time is not know yet, according to Mr. Ardon Tolan of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Public comment will be heard at this meeting.

The article also stated that just 10 percent of the formaldehyde would be transported to other customers. Just 10 percent of 170 million pounds, is 17 million pounds more than I want transported on our railways and highways. Four years ago, Georgia-Pacific stated they would never produce formaldehyde here. Are they going to change their minds regarding this 10 percent, also? Will they decide it's economically feasible to supply the entire Midwest?

There are too many unanswered questions, and too much potential for disaster. It is imperative that anyone with concerns, attend the public meeting, when it is announced.

Sheriff Dept. Does Best Job Possible

I would like to respond to both Mr. Alstotts, and Julia Guman's letters to the editor as a Crawford County resident, and as a Michigan National Guardsman.

First of all, I feel the Crawford County Sheriff's Department, headed by Sheriff Hatfield, does the best job possible. They take calls by priority, as do all police departments, and other professions. As far as military vehicles committing moving violations within the city of Grayling, or the county of Crawford, I feel positive that either the city police department, or the Crawford County Sheriff's Department will hold no prejudice, military, or civilian. The trained police officer will issue the appropriate citation.

All military personnel who drive military vehicles have to have a valid state drivers license, and have to pass a military written test, and a driver's test by a qualified instructor. The instructor, appointed by their unit commander, has been trained to instruct, and test. We in the military have to abide by the same laws as the civilians, as well as additional regulations. We have certain speed and weight limits.

I feel many accounts, and descriptions, are of great imagination, and would make a best seller in the fictional section of the downtown bookstore. I feel the economic value of the National Guard who live in Crawford, Kalkaska, and Roscommon counties are of great value.

These men and women who are in the National Guard, buy homes, cars, boats, pay property taxes, income taxes, and social security taxes, just like everyone else does. They also raise their children, and grandchildren here.

Personally speaking, if I had so many complaints about the community in which I lived, I would probably move.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

I was told the story of the ashery that was in Grayling years ago. It was located where the City Hall is now. At that time, most homes in Grayling used wood for heating and cooking. They collected the ashes and extracted the lye they contained for soap making. If you saved your ashes in a container, they would trade you a few bars of yellow soap for your ashes. That old lye soap was a real good cleaner, but it was hard on your hands. I'm not sure if they made soap here or just extracted the lye.

Most of the old pioneer women made their own soap by the same process. They extracted the lye from their own ashes, saved all the grease they could and made up batches of lye soap. They used it for their laundry, dishes and just about everything, including bath soap. Those old iron kettles we see now used for lawn decorations were used outside over a fire to make soap. When that old, rancid fat was boiling, it was not a smell you wanted in your house.

I have read that the Indians used the lye in wood ashes to take the bitterness out of acorns. I have often thought that modern science should come up with a way to do this on a large scale. In a good acorn year, thousands of tons go to waste that could help relieve world hunger. I have eaten acorns from white oaks, that were not bitter and were good.

I was shocked by the decision of the Supreme Court regarding the burning of the American Flag. To say I disagree is putting it mildly. The flag is the symbol of all the finest dreams and goals of the founders of our great country. If those ideals have not been met, it is our own fault. When we fail to exercise our right to vote, or vote for the party instead of the man, we add to the problems that our nation faces today. The televised debates could and should allow us to make an informed choice. We should demand strict accountability of our elected officials. They are elected to represent us, not the dictates of the party leaders. Somehow we must limit campaign spending, so a man doesn't have to sell his soul to special interest groups to raise enough money to compete. If the flag burners want to burn the symbols of the political parties, that's fine with me. Our flag should not be blamed for the failures of man to achieve the goals it symbolizes.

Sorry about missing the Grayling Mercantile in my column last week. I'm having trouble trying to get the other side of the street figured out. Can you help me?

Flag-burning Controversy Timely

IT IS IRONIC -- yet fitting -- that as the nation pauses to commemorate its founding, one of the topics most broadly discussed among its people is this country's flag.

On Independence Day, the flag always should hold center stage. It sure does this year.

However, attention to Old Glory in 1989 is far, far different than usual. The Supreme Court of the United States, in its decision protecting those who burn the flag, has seen to that.

The case grew out of a protest against our nation by an avowed Communist and revolutionary, who burned the flag as part of a demonstration at the Republican National Convention in Dallas in 1984. Gregory Johnson was arrested under a Texas law making it illegal to burn the American flag.

The Supreme Court now has ruled 5-4 that flag-burning is protected as a legitimate expression of opinion under the First Amendment.

THE RULING has ignited a storm of protest, and widespread consideration among Americans about the meaning of their flag.

The division on the court was an improbable one. Usually liberal Justices William Brennan, Harry Blackmun and Thurgood Marshall were joined by usually conservative Justices Antonin Scalia and Anthony Kennedy, in the majority.

Voting to protect the flag from burning were usually conservative Justices William Rehnquist, Byron White and Sandra Day O'Connor, joined by usually liberal Justice John Paul Stevens.

Obviously the question was not decided along partisan or ideological lines.

Most Americans find burning their nation's flag distasteful. They don't like it. They think it should not be done. They think the flag should be treated with respect. So do the justices who seemingly voted against the flag.

Respect for the flag is not at issue.

Freedom of expression is.

THE FIRST AMENDMENT is really not a complicated one. However, its application does get real sticky.

Here's what the First Amendment says, in its entirety:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

Is burning the flag protected by these words? The majority of the Supreme Court says it is. Millions of Americans disagree.

A rush is underway to amend the Constitution to prohibit burning the flag. President George Bush called a special news conference to announce his support for an amendment to prohibit flag burning. Michigan's Rep. Bill Schuette is among several who already have submitted proposed amendments to the Constitution.

To be successful, an amendment must be approved by two-thirds of each house of Congress, and ratified by legislatures in 38 states. It's a long and arduous route.

THE PROBLEM with the First Amendment is that it must apply to everyone alike. Its protections really aren't necessary when the ideas at issue are popular ones. It is only distasteful and controversial ideas or actions -- such as burning the flag as a form of civil protest -- which require the protection of the First Amendment.

It's the same in protecting freedom for the written word. Protection is not needed unless the words and ideas expressed, are unpopular or distasteful ones.

If everyone agrees -- or even if most people do -- there is no need for constitutional protection of ideas, or actions, or words.

In reality, there is no such thing as "the flag" which can be desecrated; it is only "a flag" which can. "The flag" means principles and ideals and eternal truths; "a flag" is a symbol or a piece of cloth or a design on a piece of paper.

By burning a symbol, Communist Johnson and his despicable ilk cannot endanger the ideals; instead, protecting the very act of flag-burning tends to strengthen the principles.

Yes, it's ironic that the American flag is on the minds of most Americans as we celebrate our national Independence Day this year -- regardless of how it happened.

But it's also good that Americans pay some attention to what the flag really means.

... about your Social Security

Younger workers and their families should be sure to include Social Security benefits in their financial planning. Social Security provides protection throughout a worker's lifetime against loss of earnings due to death or disability. Often a very young worker can gain protection after having worked as little as two years.

Social Security credits earnings in units called quarters of coverage. In 1989, a quarter of coverage is earned for each $500 a worker has in earnings up to a maximum of four quarters for the year. So a person who earns at least $2,000 in 1989 will be credited with four quarters. A very young person can be covered for survivor benefits with as few as six quarters.

If a worker dies after earning enough quarters of coverage, his or her spouse or children can be paid benefits if they qualify. The spouse must have a child under 18 or disabled in his or her care, or be 60 or older, or 50 and totally disabled.

Child's benefits can be paid to any child under 18, or under 19 if a student in elementary or secondary school. If the child is disabled before age 22, disabled child's benefits could also be paid.

When an insured worker dies, the $255 lump sum death payment can be paid to his or her eligible spouse, or to children who are eligible to receive monthly survivor benefits.

To assist young families in their financial planning, Social Security will provide the worker, upon request, a comprehensive statement of his or her Social Security earnings record, including an estimate of benefits payable in the event of disability or death, as well as estimated future retirement benefits.

The amount of future benefits payable will be based on the worker's covered earnings over his or her working lifetime.

When applying for survivor benefits, a widow or widower will need the worker's Social Security number, death certificate, marriage record, and his or her own birth record if filing for benefits based on age. A child will need a birth record to establish age and relationship to the worker.

The worker's most recent W-2 form (or return if self-employed) and military service record may be needed to credit additional earnings and possibly increase the survivor benefits payable.

For more information, contact Social Security toll-free at 800-234-SSA. Or, call the Traverse City office at (616) 946-8360. Hours are 9:00 - 4:30, Monday through Friday, except national holidays.

A representative is at the County Building in Grayling on the first and third Tuesday of each month (except national holidays) between 10:30 and 2:00. There is no phone service at this location.

SQUINTERS HAVE PROBLEMS

QUESTION: Lately I've been noticing that my son squints a lot when he looks at things. Does this mean he may need glasses?

ANSWER: People who squint a lot probably need glasses. This is often a sign of nearsightedness. Nearsighted people who don't have glasses will squint to sharpen their focus when looking at something. This may solve the problem temporarily, but it can also cause eye strain and headaches. And it doesn't do much for your personal appearance to have to squint when someone shows you something. Some adolescents tend to squint when they're growing up until they or their parents realize that they are nearsighted and need help. The problem may be in one eye or in both eyes. Only an eye examination will tell.

Pay Phone Changes Arrive

Beginning June 29, all pay telephones will have a specific long distance company to handle certain 0+ (dial zero plus the number) long distance calls - calling card, collect and third number billed. Previously, all calls were routed automatically to AT&T Communications.

To reach other than the designated company, callers will have to enter an appropriate access code furnished by that company. The company for each pay phone will be identified on the dialing instruction card so callers will know which company will be providing operator services.

Only 0+ interLATA calls will be affected. An interLATA call is one between calling areas or LATAs (Local Access and Transport Area). Any 0+ local or intraLATA call (within the same calling area) will be routed to a GTE or other local exchange company operator - which is the same procedure in place today.

Also unaffected will be any 1+ call from a pay phone. All 1+ interLATA calls will be routed to AT&T Communications and all 1+ intraLATA calls will be routed to GTE or another local exchange company. If a customer just dials 0 and waits for an operator to answer, a GTE operator or one from another local exchange company will answer and can instruct the customer on how to complete their call.

YES! MICHIGAN Train Tour Announced

Advance reservations are available now aboard the YES! MICHIGAN TRAIN sponsored by the Bluewater Michigan Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society: the Mackinac Limited.

In announcing this September 15-17 excursion, Bluewater's Dave Haugan noted its historical nature. "This rail line was established in the early 1880's, when Michigan was still a wilderness. At that time the railroads were able to obtain a most scenic route over property that is now valued by the foot. So our passengers will enjoy over forty miles of shore line trackage, directly along Mullett and Otsego Lakes." Diesel-electric locomotives will power the Mackinac Limited over the Detroit & Mackinac's ex Michigan-Central line from Bay city to Cheboygan via Grayling, Otsego Lake, Gaylord, Indian river and Mullett Lake.

Informational flyers and reservation forms may be obtained by writing: Bluewater Michigan Chapter, P.O. Box 296, Royal Oak, MI 48068; or by calling: (313) 399-7963.

The Icehouse's Upper Room Offers "A LITTLE BIT OF THE PAST"

ICE HOUSE

Whether you are a collector of antiques or simply enjoy browsing through a "little bit of the past," visitors to the Icehouse Upper Room will always find something to tickle old memories.

The Upper Room offers a blend of primitive antiques and new country decor items. The primitives include pine furniture dating back to the late 1800's, antique quilts, books, small collectables and dishes - both antique and dishes from the 1950's that are experiencing an resurgence of popularity among collectors.

Other collectables include old paintings and paintings that have originated from the Yoder Farm in Fairview, a part of the Mennonite community.

Country decor items such as woven placemats, tablecloths and rugs enhance the overall country atmosphere that is present not only in the Upper Room, but throughout the Icehouse.

The Upper Room is the culmination of 20 years of "antiquing" by Icehouse owners, Dave and Jill Wymans. The Wymans began collecting antiques while they were living in Missouri, and it is still a favored activity, although today, much of the antique purchasing is done by DeEtta Bellee, the Icehouse's resident decor specialist. DeEtta is available to assist with in-store purchases or help "hunt up" a specific antique piece to complete a collection or furnish a particular area. Besides her knowledge of antiques, DeEtta can also be consulted regarding all types of interior design questions.

Visiting the Icehouse Upper Room is a seasonal activity, that can only be enjoyed in the summertime. "The Upper Room is hot in the summer and cold in the winter," explained Jill.

The Wymans have debated whether or not to winterize the Upper Room so that it could be used year-round, but they are concerned that the insulating process would detract from the room's authentic character.

Years ago, ice was stored in the Upper Room, and the Wymans have preserved the room as it was, with the exception of the installation of windows (there were none before), and the replacement of the tin floor that sloped to the center of the room to allow for the run-off from the melting ice.

"Nostalgia warms my heart," DeEtta said. "I would like to invite everyone to come and visit the chicken coop in the Upper Room, and see if it doesn't warm yours, too."

Thank You

Perhaps you sent a lovely card,
Or sat quietly in a chair
Perhaps you sent a funeral spray,
If so we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words,
As any friend could say;
Perhaps you were not there at all,
Just thought of us that day,
Whatever you did to console our hearts,
We thank you so much whatever the part.

GMS Class Visits KCC

By Nicole Gingerich
7th Grade

The Grayling Middle School journalism class went to Kirtland Community College on May 24. They learned how to print a newspaper. After that the students were given a free lunch and a tour of the campus.

Kirtland prints by picking a type of print and a graphic. It is then printed on the computer. Then the story is photographed into a negative. The negative is burned onto a metal master. After the master is finished, a liquid is poured over it to make the story show up better. Then the master is put on a printer. The printer can print in color and in black and white.

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You
By Bill Hart
Sales Representative

Who was the oldest man ever to play in a big league baseball game? Answer is Satchel Paige and not only did he pitch in a major league game at age 59 to set the record, but he did very well...Paige, at 59, pitched for the A's against the Red Sox in a game on Sept. 25, 1965...He pitched 3 innings and gave up only one hit-and no runs.

Did you know the reason golf courses have sand traps is because the oldest golf courses in the world, in Scotland, are situated by the sea, and sandy spots are on the courses by nature...So when other courses were built everywhere else, sand traps were added to make the courses like the original ones in Scotland.

Here's a surprising fact...Former big league baseball player Al Oliver, who always seemed to be underrated, had more hits in his career than Lou Gehrig, more homers than Ty Cobb, more runs batted in than Roberto Clemente, and more doubles than Willie Mays!

See Bill Hart for a great deal on a new car or truck.

"For most restaurants, the only risk manager you might ever need is your Independent Agent."

Here's why...

You may need workers' comp, disability, property insurance, liquor liability and more. It's enough to keep a professional risk manager busy, but that's a payroll luxury few restaurants can afford. That's why so many rely upon Independent Agents for insurance advice and sound coverage. And because we represent several fine companies, you can choose the right policies at the right price, with the right service. An Independent Agent—the only risk manager you might ever need.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Special Assessment Roll prepared by the Grayling Township Supervisor for the improvement to Wilcox Bridge Road be and is hereby approved.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Township clerk endorse on such assessment roll the date of this confirmation.

Roll call: Medler: aye, McNamara: aye, O'Mara: nay, Ashton: aye, Stancil: aye. Motion carried.

Motion by O'Mara, support by Ashton, to recess and open public hearing. All ayes. Motion carried.

Public hearing regarding a petition to create a Special Assessment to blacktop approximately one mile of Michigan Avenue and Euclid at Lake Margrethe was opened at 8:30 p.m.

No one spoke in opposition to the project, however, the following voiced opinions regarding whether the project should be done by the Crawford County Road Commission with a proposed 1991 completion date or a private contractor that could complete the project this summer.

Bids are on file and available for inspection at the Grayling Township Supervisor's Office.

Robert Brady, Jerry Terry, Sam Patti, Frank Davison favored having the Crawford County Road Commission do the project in 1991 or sooner if possible.

Larry & Charlene Ostrowski favor bid from Widdis Sand & Gravel with work to start this summer.

Dick Raab asked if the Road Commission had been asked to consider contributing funding to the project if a private contractor did the work?

Mr. Stancil has received verbal reply to his letter regarding funding. The Road Commission is not in a budgeting position which would enable them to contribute to a project done by a private contractor at this time. The Road Commission will be able to contribute 50 per cent of the project costs when the work is done by them and within their budget. The project is currently estimated to be in the 1991 budget.

Correspondence: Garland Joyce - Opposed to private contractor. Favors Road Commission schedule. Alton T. Davis - Opposed to project. Michael Klements - Opposed to project.

State assistance for the project has been requested because the road services a state campground.

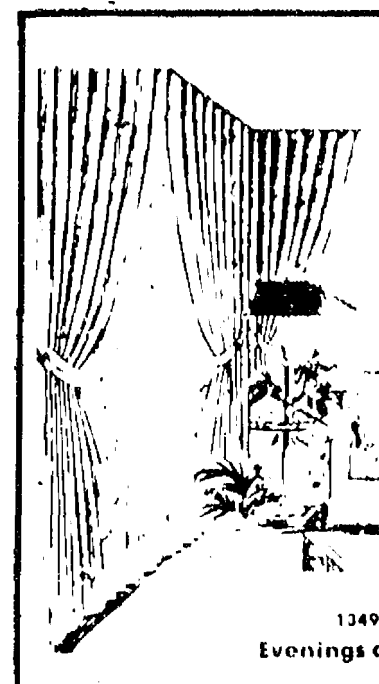

Motion by O'Mara, support by Ashton to close public hearing and return to regular session. All ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Ashton, support by O'Mara, to proceed with the creation of a Special Assessment District to blacktop one mile of Michigan Avenue and Euclid at Lake Margrethe and accept the Crawford County Road Commission bid and time table for completion of the project. All ayes. Motion carried.

Department Reports written and on file: Supervisor/Assessor, Bldg. Dept., C.C.T.A., G.R.A.

25-Year-Old Seeks U.S. House Position

A 25-year-old Ithaca man has laid an early challenge to the U.S. House seat now held by Rep. Bill Schuette.

Joseph P. Simcox, in a press release, said he will run on the Republican ticket in the 1990 elections for the seat Schuette, a Republican from Sanford, has held for nearly five years.

Schuette, whose 10th District covers much of the central portions of the state, has formed a committee to explore the possibility of challenging U.S. Senator Carl Levin in the 1990 elections. If Schuette does decide to run against Levin, he would have to give up his House seat.

Simcox holds a bachelor's degree from Michigan State University and studied for a year in Rome. He said he has traveled extensively, including trips to Mexico, Belize and Poland, for both education and business.

Simcox becomes the first Republican to throw his hat into the ring for Schuette's seat.

Joseph Simcox

He said he would concentrate on agricultural issues, increasing farm productivity and developing the forestry industry.

PREFERENCES

People who are sailboat buffs look down their noses at powerboats. Conversely, those who prefer powerboats think there is too little action in the sport of sailing. It's a matter of personal preference.

Fortunately, there is enough water in the world to permit both kinds of boating. Also, there is enough of everything on this earth to enable us to live in dignity while doing personally what we like best — if we use our resources properly... and remember to consider our fellowman.

Personal preferences... consideration. These two things apply to boating, to be sure. They also apply to choice of a mate, where to live, kind of occupation, and where and how to worship. You have freedom of choice. Don't forget to use it.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John Part #86

Effective Witnesses

Directly between the teaching of hatred, persecution and death for the disciples of Christ, we have the instruction for perfect Christian witnessing. The divine witness of the Holy Spirit is behind all true Christian witness. "But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me." (John 15:26). His name "Comforter" reminds us of His abiding presence, perception, and power as we face the hatred, persecution, and suffering inflicted upon us by the world. The Holy Spirit will give us words to speak. (Matt. 10:16-20). The witness of the Holy Spirit exalts the person of Jesus Christ.

Because the Comforter testifies of Christ, the disciple is energized as an instrument of witness. We have the unique privilege of being co-laborers with God in soul-winning. (2 Cor. 5:11-6:20). "And ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning." (John 15:27). The word "witness" comes from the greek word "martus" or "martur" from which we get our English word "martyr". In the early centuries it became synonymous with one who sealed his testimony by his death. The testimony of these apostles is recorded for us in the Bible, and we still share this witness when we point sinners to Jesus Christ through the Holy Scriptures. "But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth." (Acts 1:8). The above setting is a court scene. The world of sinners still has Jesus Christ on trial. Satan is the prosecutor and accuser. Each Christian is a witness on stand before the world. The Holy Spirit is our defense attorney. There are no fence riders. You will either speak the words given you by your defense attorney through the Scriptures or shame the Christ who died to be your savior.

Each Christian must ask the questions? Who is pre-eminent in my life? Is it the Holy Spirit? What power is at work in my life? Is it the resurrection power of Christ? What testimony do I give before the lost world? The context reminds us that true witness is of God and results in persecution from the world. ## Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

As one looks around our woodlands now, it is hard to believe that a deer could ever starve to death. But food sources available in fall, winter and early spring are most critical to deer because they affect body condition, winter survival and reproduction. What appears to be a veritable supermarket in the summer is more like Old Mother Hubbard's cupboard when it really counts.

Even in the critical time of January, February and March, not all available food will sustain a deer. If preferred food is not available, deer will eat anything to ease hunger pangs. Since many deer die with undigestible food in their stomachs, it is perhaps more accurate to recognize malnutrition rather than starvation as the cause of death.

If there is only a limited amount available, the deer will turn to medium quality foods such as aspen, jack pine, oak (oak buds are medium quality, acorns are excellent if available), ash and white birch.

So called "starvation foods" are spruce, beech, red pine, balsam, tag alder and leather leaf, which offer no nutritional value to a deer. When deer start eating these plants, we know that they are in serious trouble.

Some preferred deer food during the late winter/early spring months are as follows: white cedar, white pine, maple, yellow birch, dogwood and sumac. If these are available in the yarding areas, the herd will survive.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoever
Hartwick Pines Interpreter

It was a busy holiday weekend for the park, but at the logging camp every day was September 12, 1893. The rough edges have been polished off the interpretive crew and their abilities will only improve as the summer continues. If you have not met them in person, I would urge you to do so. In the meantime let me introduce the three remaining members of the crew to you.

Kevin Francis is from Grayling and he graduated with the class of 1989. He is the newest member of the crew, but he has an interest in a number of outdoor recreational activities which helps in his interaction with park visitors. Kevin is still getting acquainted with the intricacies of role playing and while this may not influence him, he has expressed a desire to pursue employment with the DNR.

Last but not least is Doug McPherson from Ellsworth. Doug brought with him skills learned on a dairy farm and on his father's tree farm and nursery. Since his arrival at Camp Five, he has pretty much taken over the Iron Burner's job. He will be returning to Spring Arbor college this fall as a sophomore majoring in business.

We have one volunteer on our crew who rides to work with me nearly every day. My son, Jeremiah, is also learning how to role play and despite his fifteen years you may find him in a variety of roles. Like the rest of us, he will be doing his best to convince you that you have made a side trip into the 19th century. Come visit the park and especially Camp Five. They need to hear from you that they are doing a good job.

Verse or Worse

By Joseph D. Murphy

I Looked Up

*I looked up from a bloody battlefield,
Where mothers' sons on both sides were dying.
Through the battle smoke up in the clouds,
I thought I saw the Holy Mother Mary crying.*

*I looked up from a city slum,
Where there was suffering and dying.
Through the smog-filled air up in the clouds,
I thought I saw our Dear Lord crying.*

*I looked up from marble halls,
Where black robed justices were denying,
An unborn baby's right to live,
I thought I saw the Baby Jesus crying.*

*I looked up from a mighty church,
Where the rich and famous came in style,
Through the pomp and ceremony,
I thought I saw Jesus's doubtful smile.*

*I looked up from a humble country church,
Where neighbors had gathered in Christian love,
And for the first time ever,
All were smiling up above.*

Poet's Corner

Son

*When you were a little boy and full of beans
The knees and rump were always out of your jeans.
You made me laugh when
I wanted to cry
That twinkle and mischief was always in your eye.
You kept things lively around our place.
A cute little boy with a freckled face.
Now you are grown and have kids of your own
To bring you joy like
you have never known.
As you travel life's road
and you get our age,
All too quickly you will turn the page
Then you too will enjoy memories of the past
And realize that life goes by very fast.*

GARDEN

Vegetable Nutrition,
Freshness, Flavor Depend On Maturity and Hour of Harvest

Over-mature vegetables will be stringy and coarse in texture. When possible, vegetables should be harvested during the cool part of the morning and processed as soon as possible.

Here's how to tell when to harvest some vegetables:

Asparagus. Spears are at least 6 to 8 inches tall. To harvest, snap or cut at ground level.

Lima Beans. Pods have just begun to bulge with the enlarged seed. Pods should be green, not yellowish.

Snap Beans. Beans snap easily when bent in half. Harvest before seeds develop in the pod.

Broccoli. Cluster or heads are dark green and buds are shut tight. Harvest before any yellow flowers appear.

Brussels Sprouts. Lower sprouts (small heads) are 1 to 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Harvest by twisting them off.

Cabbage. Head feels hard, solid.

Carrots. Roots are 4 to 6 inches in diameter. The largest roots usually have the darkest tops.

Cauliflower. Curds (heads) are 4 to 6 inches in diameter but are compact, white, smooth. Exclude sunlight (blanch) when curds are 1 to 2 inches in diameter by loosely tying together the outer leaves above the curd with a string or rubber band. Head should be ready 10-15 days later.

Strolling Around Town

By Fay Bovee
348-7017

With a 12-day vacation there isn't much time to stroll but a trip this Friday morning to State Street was well worth the time. Margaret Hayes inherited many flowers from Loretta Barnes when Loretta moved from the Housing Commission and Margaret has added many more. Along with her neighbor, Millie Crosby, they have a beautiful garden of lilies, roses, panies, and too many more to name (even tomatoes and peppers)! Edna Feldhauser at the front has geraniums and shrubs and, Vivian Peterson has some large pansies. So take a side trip around the apartments and you'll see some very attractive places. Coming back down the street Matilda Gildner was out watering her yard and we admired her roses.
